About Sapienta Economics

We go beyond the headlines

Sapienta Economics Ltd is an economic consultancy based in the Republic of Cyprus. The company produces analysis primarily on Cyprus for prestigious international and local clients. We are committed to independent analysis and have no ties to any government or political party, either in Cyprus or abroad.

Sapienta Country Analysis Cyprus is our flagship monthly report. Each month you receive in-depth analysis and forecasts on key issues for your organization: politics including the Cyprus problem, sectoral issues and energy including natural gas, fiscal sustainability, banking-sector stability, macroeconomic and sectoral trends, and economic trends in northern Cyprus.

The concise analysis gives you a clear picture of the upcoming economic or political risks that might affect your business or organization. We are confident that no other outlet in Cyprus or abroad gives you the tools to plan ahead with such foresight.

The reports are written by Fiona Mullen, an analyst with over 20 years' experience producing clear, reliable and independent analysis for an international audience. Analysis is written in a plain, easy-to-understand language, avoiding academic and financial-sector jargon.

Neither Sapienta Economics nor Fiona Mullen holds investments in Cyprus shares or bonds. Both the company and Fiona Mullen have bank deposits in Cyprus under the insured threshold of €100,000.
